Weekly Maths Tasks (Aim to do 1 per day)

It is important to keep active so can you help your child think of their own exercise routine we can use at school. You could do 5 star jumps and 6 hops etc! Ensure they are always counting as they are moving.
Why not try Cosmic Kids Yoga! Hit the link below!

Can you help children practise counting numbers from 0- 20. You can use lots of silly voices when you do this! Try counting quietly like a mouse or loud like a dragon and remember to become a rocket ship when you count backwards!

If you had magic beans like Jack did who would you share them with? Can you use different objects and imagine them as the beans and share them between your family or toys! Can you make an equal amount for each person?

Now you know where different shapes are hiding in your house, can you help your child make a tally chart recording how many of each shape you can find? You can ask questions like which shape do you see the most and which one do you see the least? This chart could help.

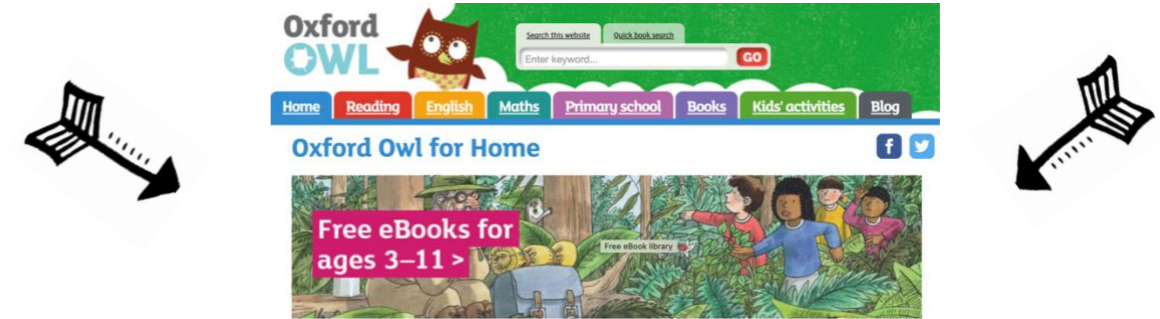

Item	Tally	Total

Fill a cup or jar up with sweets or any small items you have in your house. Ask your child and others in your house to make a guess/estimation of how many sweets/items are in the jar. Write the estimations down. After estimating encourage your child to count out the items carefully, giving a number name for each item. Who was the closest with their estimation?
